'What Hath God Wrought?' Postal Report

The last commercial Morse telegraph wire on the North American continent has closed, according to an item in the Wall Street Journal.

The closed-out circuit ran from Batican, a whistle-stop on the Canadian Pacific railroad, to the mining area in northern Quebec province.

And the wire closed with the same words that opened the first code wire in America three generations ago: "What hath God wrought?"

The Associated Press still traveled on the Morse wire when I joined the El Dorado Daily News, fresh out of the University of Missouri "J School," in 1923. The click-clack of the old instrument, backed up by an empty Prince Albert can to make the sound stronger, was as much a symbol of newspapering as the musical tinkle of brass matrices falling through the Linotypes—to which orchestra of sound was added, in the case of El Dorado, the bass note of gas engines pumping oil in the old El Dorado South Field.

It's all gone now—Linotypes and Morse wire, and even the sound of the oil pumpers is subdued in these depleted days.

Morse went out at El Dorado in 1926, as I recall, being replaced with the modern Teletype, dispensing with Morse receiving operators everywhere. A man in Memphis hit the keyboard of the sending machine and all the Teletypes around the circuit responded automatically. The manually-operated Morse wire was good for about 8,000 words a shift—but the Teletype turned out 25,000 to 30,000.

With offset printing today the Teletype is used only as a monitor to tell us what is coming into the shop on perforated tape. The tape is converted to type proofs by a pair of computer-equipped Compugraphics, each of which is many times faster than the Teletype.

In the old days we wrote headlines for copy, then sent the copy back to the shop to be turned into type.

Today the procedure is reversed. By the time we get Teletype proofs on the news desks from which to write headlines the actual type proofs are ready and waiting in the shop.

Nostalgic are the old days—but I'll take Today and Tomorrow.

Here are a couple more letters on Hope's disreputable rural mail service:

Editor The Star: I received (last) Thursday's Hope Star this morning (Friday, June 2), but Wednesday's paper (June 1) has not arrived yet.

So, no full county election report up to this good hour. Yours very truly,

Ed. Note: We can beat that tale of woe. Mr. Wolff, former postmaster of the discontinued Bingen Post Office, wrote his letter June 2 but we didn't get it until this morning, June 7—five days to travel from Bingen to Hope, a distance of less than 30 miles.

Editor The Star: Some days we have not received The Star. Some days we get two or three at a time.

Three of our children have attended Hope High School. Through the years we have enjoyed the many good pictures covering 4-H, Boy Scout, and school events.

We feel sure you will be able to do something to help correct the mail situation. Sincerely,

Air Pirate Sanctuaries Boycotted

By VERN HAUGLAND

AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid hints they might clear the skies of commercial airliners for a day, American pilots have begun boycotting countries that shelter airline hijackers.

The AFL-CIO Airline Pilots Association said Tuesday its 46,000 members will not fly to Cuba or Algeria or any other country which has refused to prosecute or extradite hijackers.

An ALPA spokesman said the boycott also will extend to airlines in other countries which serve Cuba or any of the Middle Eastern nations which have given airline hijackers refuge.

The spokesman added that a 24-hour refusal to fly on all U.S. airlines anywhere is under consideration as a means of showing how seriously the pilots are taking the hijacking problem.

No American-owned planes fly to Cuba so for U.S. pilots that portion of the boycott will have no impact.

In a letter, ALPA President John J. O'Donnell notified President Nixon Tuesday that he had directed pilots of 36 U.S. airlines holding contracts with the union to begin the boycott.

O'Donnell said he had asked leaders of other U.S. unions to see that servicing and ground maintenance of the aircraft of such nations also is withdrawn.

He said the 60-nation International Federation of Air Line Pilot Associations, meeting in London next Thursday and Friday, has been urged to join in.

O'Donnell also called on Nixon to bar from the United States the aircraft of nations that permit or condone air piracy.

O'Donnell was expected to solicit the support of maritime workers, in a luncheon talk before the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades department today.

"As our President, we look to you to work with other world leaders to insure that our boycott actions are effective," O'Donnell said in his letter to Nixon.

O'Donnell said Federal Aviation Administration figures show 450 airline passengers and crew members have been murdered by airline criminals around the world since air service was begun. Many others have suffered physical and psychological injuries of permanent nature, he said.

He said U.S. airlines have been victims of 147 hijacking assaults by 193 persons, of whom 107 are still fugitives. So far this year, he said, more than 1,100 U.S. passengers and crew members have been forced to go along in 18 hijackings.

Mysterious Death

FBI Enters Texas Slaying

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — The FBI has entered the case of George Randolph "Randy" Farenthold, a wealthy rancher, sportsman and playboy found slain in gangland fashion on a seashore.

Farenthold, 32, was the stepson of state Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi, who lost the Democratic primary runoff election for governor last Saturday.

His body washed ashore Tuesday two miles south of Port Aransas on the north side of Corpus Christi Bay. A 25-

Douglas Resigns

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — State Sen. Bob Douglas, who has been on the Texarkana School Board since September 1963, resigned from the board Tuesday night.

A state Supreme Court ruling in a taxpayers lawsuit several months ago held that Douglas was prohibited under the state Constitution from being elected to the board while serving a Senate term. Douglas was president of the board.

He said he had been advised that if he did not resign from the board an injunction prohibiting from participating in board business would be served on him within a few days. He said he also understood that some attempt might be made to require him to reimburse the school district for school board expenses involved in his service on the board since the court's ruling. Douglas was nominated to his third Senate term in the May 30 Democratic primary. He has no Republican opponent.

Hanoi Power Plants Again Bombed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets wrecked a big North Vietnamese railroad marshalling yard and highway bridge less than 25 miles from the Chinese border, military spokesmen reported today.

The raid Tuesday was the closest to North Vietnam's northern frontier since the full-scale bombing campaign was resumed on April 6.

The bridge 10 miles southwest of Long Son was knocked out with "smart" bombs guided to the target by laser light rays, the spokesmen said.

Another flight of Air Force Phantoms dropping laser bombs attacked the Bag Giang power plant 25 miles northeast of Hanoi for the second time in a week. The raid June 1 damaged the plant and its support buildings, spokesmen said, while the strikes Tuesday scored direct hits on the generator buildings and plant. But cloud cover prevented determination of the extent of damage, the spokesmen said.

The U.S. Command said U.S. pilots flew more than 270 strikes across North Vietnam Tuesday and destroyed or damaged five other bridges and 61 supply water craft.

Pilots from the carrier Saratoga reported destroying the east span of the Yen Lap railroad bridge 29 miles southeast of Hanoi and said they set fire to the Tieu Giao petroleum storage area 30 miles southeast of the North Vietnamese capital.

In South Vietnam, meanwhile, North Vietnamese forces made a series of attacks northwest of Saigon. Troops of the North Vietnamese 7th Division attacked four South Vietnamese militia posts defending the district towns of Chu Chi, Trang Bang and Khien Hanh on the Saigon River corridor, a key infiltration route. The attacks Tuesday were at points 25 to 40 miles northwest of Saigon.

Field reports said 42 North Vietnamese troops and seven militiamen were killed, and 67 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Dr. Joseph Rupp, Nueces County medical examiner, said after an autopsy early today that Farenthold was struck on the head with a blunt instrument and thrown unconscious into the water. He ruled it was a case of homicide.

A Nueces County sheriff's office spokesman said Farenthold was last seen Saturday night. He said no motives or suspects have been established and Farenthold's car is still missing.

The FBI said it was entering the case because Farenthold was a prime witness in a federal case against four men charged with defrauding him of $100,000 and inducing him to travel across a state line in pursuance of a scheme.

Charges were brought against the four after Farenthold said he traveled to Houston with $100,000 to purchase federal bank notes and was robbed of the money by a gunman after he checked into a motel.

Johnson Endorses McClellan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A letter in which Jim Johnson endorses the re-election bid of Sen. John L. McClellan was introduced Tuesday in the campaign for next Tuesday's runoff for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

In the letter, which is addressed to Arkansans, the 1966 Democratic gubernatorial nominee from Conway urges voters to "get up off our dusters" to work for the re-election of McClellan.

Portraying McClellan's foe, Rep. David Pryor, as a "glamorous boy," the letter says that if McClellan is re-elected the senator will "take the gloves off and let those sniveling liberals have it with both hands."

In Pine Bluff, Pryor told newsmen he could not understand why a man of McClellan's stature should "stoop so low as to seek the endorsement of such a hatchet man as Justice Jim Johnson."

Johnson, when contacted by telephone, said: "When a little pipsqueak like Ted Boswell, whom my wife beat for governor four years ago, endorsed Pryor in the strongest terms it was played up by Pryor as an act of statesmanship of major proportions. When Jim Johnson asked a few of his friends to support Sen. McClellan it suddenly becomes a hatchet job with Pryor squealing like a hog under a gate. The reason for this double standard depends upon whose ox is gored."

Johnson said he mailed about 1,000 copies of the letter to his friends around the state. He said he had been campaigning for McClellan "on my own but not nearly as much as I should have."

Johnson said McClellan did not ask him to write the letter.

"I don't have to have someone to pull my chain every time I act," Johnson said. "I wrote the letter because I wanted to and it insults the intelligence of anyone who knows me to suggest otherwise, just like it insults the intelligence of the Arkansas people for Pryor to try to make it appear that there is something sinister about the many 'brick and mortar' projects that mean more jobs and payrolls."

Johnson said that the most impelling reason, however, that he involved himself in the Senate race was because he was "not prepared to sit idly by and watch Bill Becker elevated to the exalted position of political czar of Arkansas without a fight."

A spokesman for McClellan also said the senator did not solicit Johnson's endorsement.

Votes Bond Issue

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP) — By a vote of 384-10, Pocahontas voters approved Tuesday issuance of a $5 million Act 9 industrial bond issue to finance construction of an expansion of the Waterloo Industries Plant.

The plant, which is under construction, is expected to be in operation by August. The total payroll is eventually expected to reach 400 to 600, officials said.

Waterloo, which has plants in California and Iowa, makes tool boxes and other items.

TV Debate Scheduled Sunday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The candidates for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate will appear in a debate to be telecast live Sunday at 9 p.m.

The program is to be carried by television stations KATV at Little Rock, KFSA and KFPW, both of Fort Smith.

Rep. David Pryor had challenged the incumbent, John L. McClellan, to the one-hour debate after KATV offered an hour of free prime time.

Pryor subsequently submitted a proposed format to McClellan. The senator modified the format, and Pryor said Tuesday afternoon that the modifications were acceptable to him.

While he said he would have preferred a "little more give-and-take situation," Pryor said the format was "the best we could hope for" and pledged to abide by it.

McClellan had requested that the telecast time be after church hours.

Pryor's only reservation to McClellan's format was a proposal that each candidate have an equal number of supporters in the studio. The congressman said neither candidate should have a "cheering section," but he said he believed the matter could be worked out satisfactorily with McClellan.

McClellan told a news conference Tuesday that he wanted a debate "where we can be free to stand up and look at each other and talk it out."

The format provides for Pryor, as the challenger, to open with an 18-minute statement, followed by a 20-minute statement by McClellan. Pryor then would have nine minutes for rebuttal and McClellan would follow with seven minutes of rebuttal.

McClellan said the moderator would have no responsibility but to announce the program and to keep time.

"This format will afford the maximum time for each of us to discuss our records of performance and to present our views to the people to the fullest extent possible on issues that have been raised in this campaign," McClellan said in a letter to Pryor.

The senator said he would consider any changes Pryor might want.

McClellan said that under his proposal, each candidate would be free to raise any issues he felt advantageous to his candidacy.

He also said that in contrast to a panel format, time would not be consumed in submitting to questions.

Although incumbents traditionally avoid debates with their challengers, McClellan said he was not worried.

Arkansas Is Hot And Dry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Arkansas weather picture could be described in two words — hot and dry.

The National Weather Service said the temperature reached a record 99 degrees Tuesday at Little Rock as the scorching weather continued. The previous high was 98 set in 1911. It was the second day in a row for a record high. Monday's high was 97.

Temperatures reached into the 90s in all sections of the state Tuesday. Little Rock was the warmest spot in the state and the coolest section was in the northwest where Fayetteville recorded a high of 92 and Harrison had 91 degrees.

The northeast section again had some scattered light showers but no measurable amounts were reported and the precipitation ended early in the evening. Isolated showers are expected again late today in the same area.

California Victory Tops McGovern Win in Four States

No One Would've Believed It Except Sen. McGovern

By WALTER R. MEARS

AP Political Writer

As political theater, nobody would have believed the Democratic presidential nomination campaign of 1972—nobody except Sen. George McGovern who wrote his own script.

The last act hasn't been played yet. McGovern will be hard to stop for the nomination to seek the White House, but there almost surely will be those who try.

Nonetheless, if anything was more obvious six months ago than that Sen. Edmund S. Muskie would be the nominee, it was that McGovern didn't have a chance.

He was the outsider. He was nowhere in the public opinion polls. The party leaders were signing up with his rivals.

Today, it is Muskie who is nowhere.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey isn't much better off, although he is not disheartened, is going to stay with it and "get this nomination."

The odds against that went up early today when McGovern won the California presidential primary, the big one with its 271 delegate votes at the Democratic convention in Miami Beach.

He won in New Mexico, too, although narrowly, over Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

He captured a solid majority of the 109-vote New Jersey convention delegation. And he won unopposed in his own South Dakota.

be closer than expected, the South Dakota senator won a clear victory over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey in their battle for California's 271 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Along with victories in New Jersey, New Mexico and his native South Dakota, the triumph valued McGovern's delegate total past the 900 mark in his drive to reach the 1,509 needed to capture his party's presidential nomination.

Humphrey, however, appeared to have done well enough in California to stay in the race and encourage those Democratic party leaders and labor chieftains who have been

Tennessee Williams on Stage in His Own New York Play

Ball Foresaw Error of Escalation

By MICHAEL J. SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A key foreign policy figure in the Johnson administration warned in 1964 that escalation of the Vietnam war would probably end in failure, according to a top-secret memo made public today.

George W. Ball, in a document Atlantic Monthly magazine says was read by President Johnson, cautioned in strong terms against sending large numbers of American troops to South Vietnam and widespread bombing of North Vietnam.

Writing of the likely outcome of a widened U.S. role in Vietnam, Ball said, "Once on the tiger's back, we cannot be sure of picking the place to dismount."

Ball's memo was written Oct. 5, 1964, just before Johnson's election as President and while pressure for responding to North Vietnamese and Viet Cong military successes was growing.

Citing the "feeble condition of the Saigon government," Ball, an undersecretary of state, wrote that an expanded air war designed to cut back North Vietnamese support of the Viet Cong would be of little help in defeating an insurgency in the South.

"There is little evidence to suggest that the South Vietnamese would have their hearts lifted merely by watching the North Vietnamese suffer a sustained aerial bombardment," he said. "Most have families or at least friends in the North."

"Nor can we rule out the possibility that Hanoi would undertake an overt invasion," Ball wrote. "By directly bombing North Vietnam, we would have removed the political inhibition against overt use of force."

Once the commitment of an expanded air war was made, Ball said, the sending of large numbers of American ground troops to South Vietnam was inevitable.

"Even substantially increased infiltration from North Vietnam would require substantial American ground units to defend our bases from attacks by the North."

cool to the McGovern candidacy.

Even before it became clear that Humphrey's margin in populous Los Angeles County would be insufficient to overcome the hefty McGovern majorities in the northern part of the state and in San Diego, McGovern was claiming victory and saying it means he'll win the Democratic nomination.

With over half of the vote counted, McGovern had 47 per cent, Humphrey had 38 per cent.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, a write-in entry, ran third with 5 per cent, but his true total was unlikely to be known for several days. Six other candidates split the remaining ballots.

Before the California outcome was settled, McGovern had won the day's three other primaries. He captured a solid majority of the 109 New Jersey delegates swept the 17 of his native South Dakota without opposition and took New Mexico's first presidential primary in a tight race with Wallace that gave each nine delegates.

California, however, was the big prize. Both McGovern and Humphrey had predicted the winner would capture the presidential nomination though Humphrey modified that in recent days as polls showed him far behind in the state.

The California vote count was delayed when a federal judge in San Francisco ordered polls kept open an extra three hours to handle delays caused by an unusually long local ballot. Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. then ordered the statewide tally held up until San Francisco polls closed.

A few votes were counted before Brown's order was received, mainly in the north where McGovern was running well, and then the tally stood still for more than two hours, until after 2 a.m. EDT.

As the tally started to mount, McGovern told reporters, "I realize there's nothing certain in politics, but I think these four victories probably set the stage for my victory in Miami Beach."

Journalists Beaten by Cubans

WARSAW (AP) — Two Associated Press correspondents, Nicholas Lillitos and George Brodski, were beaten up in their office today by four men who identified themselves as Cuban journalists.

A spokesman for the four, all of them with Latin features, asked: "Which one of you is Nicholas Lillitos?" After identifying himself, Lillitos then heard the spokesman complain in English that the correspondent had been writing a "lot of untruths" about Fidel Castro.

The man said his party were Cuban newsmen accompanying Castro on his Polish visit.

A few minutes later, one burly man, dressed in a short-sleeved shirt, grabbed Lillitos by the tie and punched him. The other three then punched and kicked both him and his colleague, Brodski.

All the time they were shouting something in Spanish. The scuffle lasted about 10 minutes. Brodski suffered back injuries which, required medical attention. Lillitos suffered a slight swelling above his right eye but otherwise was unhurt.

The AP bureau in Warsaw had reported Tuesday night, on the basis of information from a government source, that Castro was suffering from heart trouble. Castro asserted today, according to a government official, that his heart was "like steel," but his schedule was curtailed.

The Polish Foreign Ministry was informed of the attack and an oral complaint was made there by the AP bureau.

Associated Press headquarters in New York, in telegrams to the Polish Foreign Ministry and the Polish Embassy in Washington, protested that the attacks were unprovoked.

Galbraith Wants Out

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard economist John Kenneth Galbraith says he is dropping his name from consideration for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate.

State Rep. Charles Flaherty Jr., chairman of the Democratic State Committee, released on Tuesday a letter he received from Galbraith announcing that he made the decision "somewhat regretfully."

Galbraith wrote in part that "retiring Messrs. Nixon and Agnew in November is obviously the main liberal business and I'm persuaded that I should continue to use what energy I have to this end."

Galbraith said that he had canvassed reaction to his possible candidacy in the black and civil rights community and reported that it was "more favorable than not." But he added that "it remains a source of personal uneasiness to me."

Highway Bids Due June 26

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bids will be opened June 28 by the state Highway Commission on eight highway construction projects worth an estimated $7.5 million.

Almost all of the estimated cost stems from two projects, one involving grading of 1.262 miles of the Pine Bluff Expressway — U.S. 65 in Pine Bluff — and construction of a 2,342-foot steel bridge.

The Pine Bluff job cost is estimated at $3.5 million.

The other major project involves grading 3.768 miles of the Searcy bypass and construction of two span bridges and one girder bridge. This project is estimated to cost about $3.1 million.

Other projects, by county: SEVIER — Resurfacing .246 miles of U.S. 71 at Gillham. Estimated cost is $80,000.

SCOTT — Construction of a rest area and comfort station about 1.5 miles south of Waldron on the Waldron bypass. Estimated cost is $125,000.

STONE — Resurfacing 18 miles of Arkansas 66 beginning at the Searcy County line and extending east to Mountain View. Estimated cost is $210,000.

BENTON — Installation of traffic signals at the intersection of U.S. 62 and Arkansas 12 in Rogers. Estimated cost $10,000.

CRAIGHEAD — Installation of traffic signals on the U.S. 63 bypass at the intersection of Arkansas 39 and Arkansas 1 in Jonesboro. Estimated cost is $15,000.

PRAIRIE — Construction of a cofferdam, Pier 3 and miscellaneous items on the DeValls Bluff bridge east of DeValls Bluff on U.S. 70. Estimated cost is $195,000.

Gold Price Jumps to New Peak

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold jumped nearly $2 to a new peak of $64 an ounce at the opening of Europe's free bullion markets today, and the U.S. dollar weakened on most foreign exchanges.

Dealers said the big jump was due in part to the shortage of metal offered for sale which drove the price up more than $2 Tuesday. But there was also evidence that speculators were in the market, believing the price would go still higher.

Zurich dealers reported widespread rumors of a secret deal made in Moscow by President Nixon to raise the official price of gold drastically. Nixon has denied making any secret agreements during his Moscow summit talks.

The dollar which had weathered Tuesday's flurry with firmness almost everywhere, but it began to weaken at the opening today.

The Polish Foreign Ministry was informed of the attack and an oral complaint was made there by the AP bureau.

Associated Press headquarters in New York, in telegrams to the Polish Foreign Ministry and the Polish Embassy in Washington, protested that the attacks were unprovoked.

Nixon Orders Advisory Committees Open To Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has moved to open proliferating federal advisory committees to greater public scrutiny, duplicating proposals rolling rapidly toward passage in Congress.

While the White House issued a new executive order on the subject Tuesday, a top official of the President's Office of Management and Budget testified before a congressional subcommittee that control of advisory panels "is a management matter and can better be handled by executive action than by statute."

Legislation passed by the House last month and awaiting action by the Senate, OMB Assistant Director Frank C. Carlucci said, "would place a heavy operating responsibility on OMB and require a substantial addition of staff to the executive office of the President."

He said federal agency chiefs should have the job.

Carlucci, testifying before a House Government Information subcommittee hearing on governmental secrecy policies, said the President's order signed Monday "provides that all meetings of advisory committees shall be announced in advance, shall be open to pub-

Castro Slows Pace, Shows Signs of Heart Trouble

WARSAW (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro, despite reports from official Polish sources that he is suffering from heart strain, visited a school in downtown Warsaw today and told bystanders he was in good health.

"My heart is like steel," a Polish official overheard the Cuban leader tell a surrounding crowd. "I may have a coronary some day, but certainly not now."

Polish government sources said shortly after the 44-year-old Cuban leader's arrival Tuesday from Hungary that he was in "a state prior to a heart infarct," indicating that the flow of blood to the heart muscle was threatened. Other Polish officials said later Castro was "very tired."

Kleindienst Vote Is Due Thursday

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The long-stalled nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to be attorney general will be voted on by the Senate Thursday afternoon.

Senate leaders of both parties have forecast Kleindienst's confirmation. Liberal Democrats spearheading the opposition are not contesting the chances for confirmation.

President Nixon nominated Kleindienst in mid-February to succeed John N. Mitchell as attorney general when Mitchell resigned to direct Nixon's reelection campaign. Kleindienst had served as deputy attorney general.

Action on Kleindienst's nomination has been delayed by an investigation of the Justice Department's out-of-court settlement of three antitrust cases against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

The Senate Judiciary Committee probe was launched at Kleindienst's request after a charge by columnist Jack Anderson that the settlement was linked to a commitment by ITT's Sheraton Hotel subsidiary to help San Diego meet the costs of this year's Republican National Convention.

The committee has recommended Kleindienst's confirmation, saying the settlement was not the product of political influence.

But dissenters contend the hearings were incomplete. The first vote Thursday, set for 4 p.m., will come on a motion to return Kleindienst's nomination to the committee for additional hearings.

If this fails, as expected, a vote will be taken immediately on confirming Kleindienst's appointment.

Contract Awarded

WASHINGTON (AP) — A contract for dredging 303 miles along the White and Arkansas rivers was awarded to Arkansas Valley Dredging Co. Inc. of Benton, Ark., the office of Rep. John Paul Hamerschmidt, R-Ark., said Tuesday. The contract was for $162,960.

Richmond Case Eases Busing Crisis

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Reversal of the Richmond school-consolidation case by the U.S. Court of Appeals is expected to ease the pressure on Congress for enactment of court-curbing legislation aimed at halting massive busing.

The House passed Thursday anti-busing amendments that are under attack from Southerners as being too weak to stop the extensive busing called for in the Richmond plan.

Of Tuesday's court decision, Rep. Albert Quie, R-Minn., a chief sponsor of the $21.3-billion education bill to which the busing amendments are attached, said: "It couldn't have come at a better time. This will really help."

The 4th Circuit Court of Appeals held that Dist. Court Judge Robert R. Merhige Jr. had no authority to order consolidation of Richmonds 64 per cent black schools and the adjoining Henrico and Chesterfield counties, where 90 per cent of the pupils are white.

Merhige's order would have created a single 700-square-mile school district in which 78,000 of the 104,000 pupils would have been bused.

The appellate court, in a 5-1 decision, said it could find no invidious discrimination in the way Richmond public schools are operated.

Without such a finding, the court said, a judge cannot compel a state "to restructure its internal government" as a means of achieving racial balance.

The chairman of the Richmond School Board, which filed the suit leading to Merhige's consolidation order last Jan. 10, said Tuesday's ruling will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

The Justice Department and officials in Henrico and Chesterfield counties hailed the appellate court's decision.

In the view of Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and Rep. William M. McCulloch, the senior Republican member, the circuit court ruling should quiet the clamor in Congress for a constitutional amendment prohibiting busing and for permanent curbs on court-ordered busing requested by President Nixon.

squares and punch were Mesdames Harry Phillips, Roland Ballard, T.V. Wood, Jessie McKorkle, Carter Sutton, and Bud Collier.

On May 23 the home of Mrs J.C. Howell was the setting for a gift tea in honor of Miss Mitchell. Assisting in the hostilities were Mesdames Joe Jones, Tom Waters, John B. Jordan, Carlton King and Reese Chambliss.

In the receiving line the guests met the honoree, the mothers of the couple, her grandmother, Mrs. D.C. Whatley, and his sister, Miss Gayle Davis. Beautiful arrangements of daisies and roses were seen throughout the house, where the guests enjoyed cake squares and punch.

Covers were laid for eight at the June 1 luncheon at Perry's Restaurant when Mrs. R.E. Mitchell was hostess. The bride-elect pinned a daisy corsage to her beige linen dress. Unique corsages fashioned of linen handkerchiefs were given to the mothers of the couple. The table was centered by a standing bride and bouquets of roses from the garden of the honoree's aunt, Mrs. J.C. Howell.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Lester Cooper is the executive producer, creator and writer of ABC's award-winning Sunday morning children's show, "Make A Wish." He is proud of the product but is getting impatient about the blanket criticism of children's programs.

"The only way television—network television—can continue to do something good in this area is to have people out there say that there is something good," Cooper said. "Dammit, don't keep telling me how bad television is; look at it and see if you can't find something good. It's there."

ABC tapped Cooper to create a new children's show about a year ago.

"We had been doing 'Discovery' and it was a good show but the kids grew up with it and we found we were reaching too old an audience," Cooper said. "We wanted a new concept for the ones between 6 and 12."

Cooper and his staff came up with a form involving everything from quick cuts from one subject to another in "Laugh-In" style, to animation and even music.

"We move fast and we don't stop to explain," he said. "The younger ones enjoy the visual part and the others get it or they don't. I remember writing one show about flying and at one point I mentioned Icarus. I just said he had wax wings and flew too close to the sun so they melted. I only hope that sometime Icarus may be mentioned and some kid who saw the show will say 'Oh, oh, I know something about that,' and be interested to know more."

For next season's 32 shows, Cooper has picked subjects from migratory patterns of deer to the shape of trains of the future.

The producer has three teenagers of his own and believes youngsters today are particular challenges to their parents "because the world has changed and so have attitudes."

"Kids have a right to ask questions now," Cooper said. "I tell my boy he cannot ride his bicycle at night. He immediately asks me why I got him a light to put on it. That's hard to answer."

"The main point I'm trying to make," he summed up, "is that the networks are willing to do good children's programs. But we need support. Unless we get it, what's the point of trying to do it?"

Dodgers Get No. 1 Draft Pick

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers stepped into the batter's box today to grab off the No. 1 pick in the secondary phase of baseball's free agent draft after the San Diego Padres gave unknown Dave Roberts his first push toward a major league career.

Roberts, a junior third baseman at the University of Oregon, was made the No. 1 pick in the regular phase as the draft began Tuesday, becoming only the second collegian in the 15-year history of the selection process to be tabbed a No. 1 choice.

The other collegian selected No. 1 was outfielder Rick Monday, drafted out of Arizona State by the Oakland A's in 1965 and now a regular with the Chicago Cubs.

Roberts offers impressive credentials in his bid for a major league berth, including a .410 batting average at Oregon and a homer and two singles in five at-bats in an exhibition game against the Philadelphia Phillies' Eugene, Ore., farm club.

Despite the fact he's a junior, he is ready to begin starting up the ladder.

The Padres announced Tuesday night that they had signed Roberts at his home in Corvallis, Ore. Terms of the contract were not announced.

The Padres said Roberts would be in a San Diego uniform for their two-night double-header at home against the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday.

Any players drafted in the regular phase who do not sign go back into the pool and can be drafted again the following year. It is players previously drafted who did not sign who will be up for grabs in today's secondary phase.

Two players who came out of last year's secondary phase are pitchers Pete Broberg of Texas and Burt Hooton of the Chicago Cubs, who earlier this season pitched a no-hitter.

The order of draft following Los Angeles was: Cleveland, New York Mets, Texas, San Diego, California, Houston, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Atlanta, Detroit, Montreal, New York Yankees, Chicago Cubs, Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia, Minnesota, San Francisco, Boston, St. Louis, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Oakland.

Phillies Lose Again

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"Thank God I don't have a radio show this season," says Manager Frank Lucchesi of the Philadelphia Phillies. "What would I say?"

Indeed, what can you say when your team has lost 19 of 20 games.

The inept Phillies lost again, this time to the Houston Astros 4-3 Tuesday night, and left their patient manager speechless.

Well, practically speechless. "You'll never see a white flag ... I'll never surrender," said the happy-go-lucky Lucchesi who must be laughing on the outside, but crying on the inside.

The Philadelphia management attempted to help out their woeful wasters by trying to put on a hex before the game at Veterans Stadium.

They had a "Turn-Around Night," asking the crowd to take the seventh-inning stretch in the third inning, introduced the players last name first, sang "Goodnight Sweetheart" at the beginning of the game, played the National Anthem earlier than usual and made the ushers wear their caps backwards and their identification badges on their backs.

It didn't help because they didn't take into account pitcher Dave Roberts' two-run homer and a fine relief performance by Houston's Fred Gladding in the ninth.

In the National League's other games, the New York Mets turned back the Cincinnati Reds 3-2; the Atlanta Braves beat the Montreal Expos 3-2; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the San Francisco Giants 5-3 and the Los Angeles Dodgers trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-0. Rain washed out Pittsburgh at San Diego.

American league scores: Minnesota 5, Baltimore 4 in 15 innings; Oakland 7, Cleveland 2; Kansas City 4, Milwaukee 2; Texas 6, New York 3; Boston 2, Chicago 0; Detroit 8, California 6 in the first game of a double-header and California 4, Detroit 0 in the second.

RUNNING AWAY with the race, Finnish speedster Seppo Tuominen didn't want to stop to collect his laurels. An official on the run tries to bestow the prize for a 25 kilometer street race through Helsinki.

Appeal Decision Expected

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Dan Gurney and Jerry Grant awaited word from the U.S. Auto Club today on their appeal of what in effect was a $72,000 fine for illegal refueling during the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Car owner Gurney did not deny that Grant's pit crew violated race rules by pumping fuel from teammate Bobby Unser's pit tank into Grant's car. But he complained the penalty was too severe.

Grant finished second May 27 but was penalized 10 places after a protest was allowed.

Chief Steward Harlan Fenger ruled the last 12 laps Grant ran were illegal and should not have been scored. This dropped him to 12th in the final standings, with the difference in prize money between second and 12th places about $72,000.

A U. A. C. panel heard the appeal Tuesday during a two-hour session.

A decision is expected late today or Thursday.

Siebert Pitches Four Hitter In Fast Red Sox Victory

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Sonny Siebert doesn't like to think about what he's doing on the mound—and he didn't give the Chicago White Sox much time to think about it, either.

Boston's big right-hander whizzed past Chicago's heavy-hitting line-up Tuesday night in less than two hours—one minute less, to be precise—spinning a four-hitter in the Red Sox' 2-0 victory.

In the rest of the American league, Minnesota edged Baltimore 5-4 in 15 innings, Texas tripped the New York Yankees 6-3, Oakland beat Cleveland 7-2, Kansas City defeated Milwaukee 4-2 and Detroit beat California 8-6 in the first game of a twilight doubleheader before the Angels won the second game 4-0.

In the National League, Houston beat Philadelphia 4-3, Los Angeles blanked the Chicago Cubs 5-0, the New York Mets edged Cincinnati 3-2, St. Louis turned back San Francisco 5-3, Atlanta slipped by Montreal 3-2 and, for the second straight night, Pittsburgh's game at San Diego was rained out.

"I started working faster last year," said Siebert, a 16-game winner in 1971 for the third time in eight major league seasons. "I'm more aggressive that way and the fielders play better ball."

"Also, I'm not doing too much thinking when I work fast. I'm not kidding," Sonny smiled, "but when I start thinking, I can get into trouble."

He had no trouble with the White Sox. His manager, Eddie Kasko, called it "his best game of the season."

Siebert and veteran knuckleballer Wilbur Wood dueled through five scoreless innings before singles by Doug Griffin and Tommy Harper and a double by Luis Aparicio produced Boston's two runs. It enabled Siebert to chalk up his fifth victory in seven decisions.

With just three outs to go in Baltimore, it appeared the Orioles were a sure bet to snap their four-game losing streak. But Jim Palmer, tossing a six-hitter and staked to a three-run lead, couldn't hold it as the Twins tied it 4-4 on Eric Soderholm's two-run homer and singles by Rick Dempsey, Steve Braun and Danny Thompson.

They won it in the 15th on Rod Carew's single, a walk and Steve Brye's single.

Don Mincher, pinch-hitter for winning pitcher Dick Bosman, capped Texas' three-run uprising in the sixth inning with a two-run single that led to the Yankees' downfall.

Bosman was working on a one-hitter when Rangers' Manager Ted Williams decided to make the switch. "I was surprised Ted pulled me when I felt as strong as I did," Bosman said.

"Mincher made him look like a genius. I felt good and had it really going," he said. "I've never been pulled on a one-hitter before."

The A's shoved across six runs in the final two innings to beat the Indians—but Vida Blue wasn't around to enjoy the gift. He left in the sixth inning trailing by a run.

Joe Rudi doubled home one run and Sal Bando singled for another in the eighth, then Reggie Jackson's three-run homer, his 12th of the year, capped Oakland's four-run eighth.

Kansas City, held to just two hits—including Paul Schaal's run-scoring triple—in the first five innings, woke up to beat left-hander Ken Brett in the sixth on Lou Piniella's two-run single which followed hits by Fred Patek and Amos Otis.

Detroit staked Mickey Lolich to a six-run lead after just two innings of the opening game but the Tigers' left-hander had to be bailed out by reliever Chuck Seelbach before recording his ninth victory.

Ed Brinkman clouted a three-run homer and Aurelio Rodriguez added a two-run shot but Lolich was reached for nine hits—including homers by Andy Kosco, Leroy Stanton and Bob Oliver—before departing in the eighth inning.

In the second game, the Angels' Clyde Wright tossed a four-hitter to raise his record to 5-2. California gave him everything he needed with a three-run fourth, two of them coming on Leo Cardenas' double.

Little League Winners

In Little League play last night at K-Park Walker's Ref. won over Barrys by a score of 15 to 9 in the first game, and the second game was won by Sheriffs beating Lions 4 to 2.

Robert Smith was the pitcher for Walker's Ref. Barrys used Barry Hogan, Paul Willis, and Kelly Butler on the mound. Leading all hitters for the winners was Dennis Jones collecting one single and three doubles. Stan Harris was the leading hitter for the losers getting three hits. Wayne East hit his third home run.

In the second game of the evening Willis Williams was the pitcher for the Sheriffs, and Johnny Vickers saw mound duty for Lions.

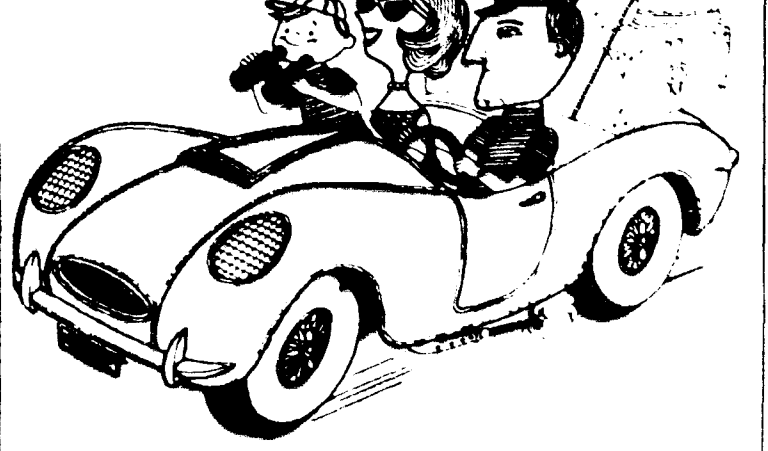

Hitters for the winners were Willis Williams getting two hits at three times up. The best hitters for the losers were Chris Cagle and Chris Newton each getting one hit. James Stuart and Chris Newton both hit home runs.

Thursday night games will be Lions vs Greening-Ellis at 6:30 p.m. and Hope Auto vs Barrys in the second game of the night.

NHL Players Carry Fancy Price Tag

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
MONTREAL (AP) — Armed with 21 players carrying fancy price tags of nearly $500,000 apiece, General Managers Bill Torrey of the New York Islanders and Cliff Fletcher of the Atlanta Flames still were shopping around for help today as the National Hockey League meetings continued.

And there were indications that help was on the way from the 14 other NHL clubs as "thank you's" for expansion draft considerations shown by the Islanders and Flames.

Immediately following Tuesday's expansion draft, for example, NHL President Clarence Campbell announced that Minnesota was "transferring" defenseman Bob Paradise to Atlanta and left wing Gordon LaBrosse to New York.

The moves reportedly were paybacks to the Flames and Islanders for passing on goalie Gilles Gilbert and forward Charlie Burns in the draft and selecting other players instead.

Montreal may owe a few favors and one of them could be goalie Denis DeJordy, who was exposed but passed over by the expansion teams. Three of the first six players selected came out of the Montreal organization.

Atlanta opened the draft of goalies by picking Phil Myre from the Canadiens and New York followed by going for Gerry Desjardins of Chicago. Atlanta's second goalie pick was rookie Dan Bouchard, who played for Boston's American Hockey League farm club last year. Then the Islanders selected Bill Smith from Los Angeles' Springfield AHL farm team.

New York had the first regular player selection and chose defenseman Bart Crashley from Montreal. That enabled the Canadiens to add Bob Murdoch to their protected list and Montreal may owe something—like maybe DeJordy—to the Islanders for that favor.

Atlanta's first regular round selection was another Montreal defense prospect, Kerry Ketter. That allowed the Canadiens to escape without losing another promising defender. Dale Hagganson, and could mean another favor owed by Montreal General Manager Sam Pollock.

The best known player drafted—forward Ed Westfall of Boston—went to New York in the third round. Westfall, a left winger and penalty killer, scored 18 goals last year for publicly.

the Stanley Cup champion Bruins.
Both New York and Atlanta set up direct confrontations with the New York Raiders of the rival World Hockey Association. Torrey chose forward Norm Ferguson as his 17th player and Fletcher grabbed defenseman Bill Speer in the inter-league draft from the minors. Both players have signed contracts with the Raiders.

Making Marriage a Success

DEAR HELEN:

You asked for formulas on making marriage work. Here's mine:

Think of marriage as if it were an automobile trip. When the car starts out the gears must shift. If they mesh smoothly the ride is smooth. If they grate, the ride is bumpy, jerky and rough, sometimes even halted.

Preparing the car for the trip is important. Try inflating the tires with compliments, filling the radiator with trust, using kindness for oil, determination for success as the starter; let patience shine in the headlights, put forgiveness in the battery, use courtesy on the brakes, an anger-filter in the carburetor, exhaust all jealousy, fill the gas tank with enthusiasm. Consider "sharing" as the ingredient in super-gas that is missing in regular gas. Carry a safety flare of humility, plenty of first aid affection, a spare tire of tenderness, and polish with understanding.

Fur seat covers and mag wheels are nice if you don't need to use the gas money to pay for them.

Never worry when you can pray instead.

Nearly everyone you meet will think that his and her car is the best and their route the fastest and most interesting. Be happy with what you have.

It doesn't always cost extra to give someone a lift, but it might prove foolish to let that someone drive.

Don't expect your car to do wheelies, be as roomy as a bus, as comfortable as a house, as economical as a bug, as fast as a cobra, to carry the load of an elephant, and to look like a Cadillac.

The best person to fix your car is usually a mechanic.

Remember, it is very difficult to read the road map while driving. Disregarding traffic signals and road signs is not smart. Jumping from a moving car usually ends in a rough landing. Everybody gets in the wrong turn sometimes. Looking ahead saves wear on the brakes and smashed fenders. Planning ahead provides time for an extra excursion of special interest. Gears need to be shifted as much going down hill as going up hill. Singing helps the time fly.

The purpose of this trip is to take love on an outing, to protect it from distractions, give it plenty of fresh air and freedom, and an incentive to grow.

Summit signs represent goals attained through hard work, luck, understanding, helping, forgiving and care.

Historical monuments represent special happy events and dates that you want to remember forever.

Mentally place a laughter sign after every detour sign and every summit sign.

There will always be another scenic point, souvenir shop, and wine-tasting place or fruit stand down the road a little ways.

Do not try to avoid all the hills and curves. A straight road on flat terrain can get monotonous. Welcome the changing scenery.

Detours often give one greater appreciation for the main roads.

No matter how rough the road or how steep the hill, have confidence that eventually there will be a stretch of road leading right to the end of the rainbow in the sky. The sun will be shining and the grass will be green. It will be a place where your love can expand effortlessly. — JOSEPHINE L. WOODSON

DEAR HELEN:

Another comment on "making a successful marriage": I would feel presumptuous in writing this, except for the fact that another celibate spoke on marriage 2000 years ago, with considerable success.

Since the cup is the psychological symbol of love, it might be good to start with this symbol. A cup has two surfaces—convex and concave—each the opposite in nature of the other and each inseparable from the other. This symbolism is carried right into the Scripture. The "cup" of Psalm 23 is overflowing, joyous, abundant and regal; while the "cup" spoken of in the garden of Gethsemane is painful, sorrowful, a source of separation. What few realize is that both are the same cup, viewed at different times. There is no true love without joy, abundance, elation and a sense of royalty; but there is also no true love without pain, sorrow, crucifixion and an intense awareness of separation. The failure today is that married people tend to suppress the latter, and so equally suppress and distort the former.

It would be well for our married people and psychologists alike to accept the dual nature of the cup of love. When they do, they will be amazed not by the weight of the burden, but at the ecstatic sense of liberation, vitality and overflow pouring from themselves. —FATHER JAMES J. CARROLL, Bloomfield, N.J.

Survives Sudden Death Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
One touring pro failed to qualify and another had to survive a five-way sudden death playoff to earn a berth in the U.S. Open Golf tournament in sectional qualifying at Atlanta.

Ken Venturi, 1964 U.S. Open champion and a member of the 1965 Ryder Cup team, carded a 36-hole total of 151 and failed to gain one of six U.S. Athletic Club course Tuesday.

Tour regatta Tommy Aaron, who fashioned a 145 in regular play, qualified with a par on the first hole of sudden death along with Johnny Pott and Larry Stubblefield.

Tim Collins, an unheralded player from Greenville, S.C., led qualifiers with a two-under-par 142.

Touring pros Jim Hardy and Dwight Nevil each posted two-under-par scores of 140 to pace 19 Philadelphia-area qualifiers. Prominent players who failed to qualify included George Knudson, Labron Harris and Dale Douglass.

Mike Hill led three qualifiers with a 141 after competition over the Birmingham, Mich., Country Club course.

John Baker Jr., an assistant pro at the Butler, Pa., Country Club, fired a 141 over his home course to lead a field of 47 golfers who battled for four berths.

Ron Letellier and Paul Harney topped 10 qualifiers at Greenwich, Conn., with 142s.

Larry Ziegler and Bill Hall posted five-under-par 139s over the Westwood Country Club course in St. Louis. Also qualifying were Bert Wever, Everett Vinzant and Larry Wood, who defeated Dick Lotz in a playoff.

Bob Goalby, tour regular and 1968 Masters champion, was the biggest casualty at St. Louis after ballooning to a 157.

DEWITT, Ark. (AP) — The trial of Larry Mannis, 17, of DeWitt on a charge of first-degree murder has been postponed from June 12 to Aug. 14. Officials said Tuesday that the trial date had been reset because Dr. Rodney Carlton of Little Rock, state medical examiner, is expected to testify in the case, but will not be able to do so on June 12.

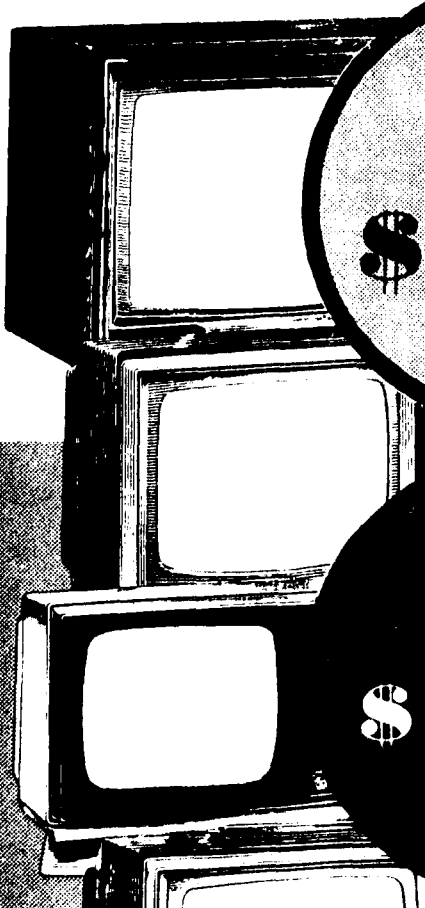

The charge stems from the death Nov. 7, 1970, of Jimmy Wayne Wampler, 27, of Wynne, who had been beaten and shot when his body was found in a field south of here.

The trial of Benny Ray West, 17, also of DeWitt, is to begin July 10 on a first-degree murder charge in the same death.

Court Will Hear School Tax Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today agreed to rule on the way all states except Hawaii finance their public schools.

Acting on an appeal by Texas, the court said it would review next term a ruling by a three-judge federal court in San Antonio that the current property tax system disadvantages the poor and is unconstitutional.

Thirty states lined up with Texas in seeking review. But four of their governors backed the district court.

Eventually, the case may rival in importance the 1954 Brown vs. Board of Education suit that led to the desegregation of schools in Southern and border states.

In every state except Hawaii, public-school financing is based to a large degree on the local property tax. Though the states and federal government provide additional funds, the kind of education a child receives is related directly to the tax revenue from property in his district.

Abortion Recognized by Presbyterians

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Delegates representing Texas members of the Presbyterian Church, USA, have gone on record in favor of new state laws permitting abortions if performed by a licensed doctor with the mother's consent.

Present Texas law allows an abortion only if the mother's life is in danger.

The Synod of Texas of the Presbyterian Church, USA, adopted a stand calling for liberalized abortion laws Tuesday night, endorsing a study paper prepared by an all-male task force.

The report urges passage of a state law making abortion a felony unless performed by a licensed physician, with the written consent of the mother if she is over 16 or that of her parents if she is under 16.

The paper places particular emphasis on the needs of the poor.

It recommends new abortion laws require doctors and hospitals that perform abortions, in cooperation with public welfare agencies, make abortions available to poor people who request them but cannot afford them.

"People with money can travel relatively easily to where abortions are legal and are performed for cash," the paper states, adding that the poor and those unaware of available services "are frequently driven by desperation into the clutches of quacks."

The paper does not advocate abortion unless the mother and physicians are in agreement and recommends that counseling on problem pregnancies should be part of pastoral care.

The decision on abortion should be made by the woman involved in her own conscience after consulting with a doctor and counselor, the report says.

The little opposition that surfaced included a statement by the Rev. Clem Lamberth of Lubbock, who said the report did not include enough of a theological basis. Another delegate said the church should not be involved in the issue because it encroaches on the doctrine of separation of church and state.

The report favors "approved medical methods of contraception" and says abortion is "an undesirable means of birth control."

The more than 300 delegates also chose the Rev. Jerry Miles, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Dallas, as moderator. He and his vice moderator, the Rev. Samuel Rice of Clarksville, will serve until January 1973, when the Synod merges with a new regional synod composed of Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

The outgoing co-moderator and the only woman Presbyterian minister in Texas is Miss Elizabeth Johnson, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Fort Worth. She became the first woman to open a synod Tuesday, due to the illness of Moderator Rudolph Guerrero of San Antonio.

Gunbattle Follows Peace Bid

BELFAST (AP) — Gunmen waged a three-hour offensive in the dark streets of Belfast Tuesday night a few hours after the British released 75 suspected guerrillas in a bid to bolster the growing peace movement among the Roman Catholics of Northern Ireland.

One soldier was killed and a militiaman critically wounded in the guerrilla attacks. The army said more than 200 shots were fired at troops around the Catholic New Lodge district.

The soldier's death was the 365th recorded in the three years of communal violence and the 150th this year.

Other gunmen raked a nurse's home with bullets in an attack on an army post in the Fouth Falls district, and a 150-pound bomb in a stolen car wrecked a row of shops in Lurgan, near the city, but no one was hurt.

The 75 men, all known or suspected members of the Irish Republican Army, were freed from the Long Kesh internment camp outside Belfast where they had been held without trial for months.

It was the largest group of internees freed since the British began releasing them two months ago in an attempt to draw Catholic support away from the IRA.

MONTREAL (AP) — Doug Favell, 27, a goalie with the Philadelphia Flyers since the team's inception in 1967, has agreed to terms for three more years with the National Hockey League club. It was learned Monday night Favell joined the Flyers from the Boston Bruins in the original NHL expansion draft.

Baptists Reject Censorship

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An overwhelming majority of the 10,000 messengers attending the Southern Baptists convention has rejected a proposal to censor a set of books that give a liberal interpretation of the Bible.

The messengers also selected the first layman since 1959 to head the Southern Baptist Convention, which represents America's largest Protestant denomination. He is Owen Cooper, 64, of Yazoo City, Miss., who will succeed the Rev. Carl E. Bates of Charlotte, N.C.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

The censorship vote split the convention's 125th meeting 4-to-1 against approval of motion to withdraw from further sale the 12-volume Broadman Bible Commentary and have it rewritten.

The Rev. Gwin W. Turner of Mar Vista, Calif., argued that the commentary claims "there are errors in the Bible" and this "is out of harmony" with the beliefs of the 11.8 million Southern Baptists. Only the Roman Catholic Church has more members.

Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs of Oklahoma City, a former president of the convention, was the only speaker against Turner's motion, and he suggested its approval "can only lead to disruption of our fellowship."

"No man alive today could write a commentary on the Bible with which all Southern Baptists would agree entirely," Hobbs said.

The disappointed Turner, who had sought since 1969 to kill the current commentary as too liberal, predicted to newsmen later that many conservative churches in the South and West might quit the convention. "This is going to cause some division," he said, adding he would remain in the denomination and had no plans to renew the controversy next year.

The Southern Baptists, predominantly white, have churches in ever state. There are 26 other Baptist groups with a total membership of around 14 million.

U.S. Rejects New Demand for Parley

PARIS (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam today rejected a demand from North Vietnam and the Viet Cong to resume the Vietnam peace talks Thursday.

The allies said the Communists had given no indication that they were ready to negotiate seriously, and they still sought a military solution to the war.

Wednesday, June 7, 1972

The allies suspended the conference indefinitely on May 4.

Hanoi's highest-ranking official in Paris, Politburo member Le Duc Tho, said Tuesday night he would agree to more secret talks with presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger, but only if Kissinger offers new proposals to end the war and if the semi-public peace talks are resumed.

Tho was replying to questions from newsmen at reception, and his remarks were not a hint that there had been any American overtures for secret talks.

Mine Disaster Traps 400

WANKIE, Rhodesia (AP) — Officials of the Wankie Colliery admitted today that they held little hope for the survival of more than 400 coal miners entombed deep below ground. It appeared likely that it would be the second worst mining disaster in African history.

"Miracles can happen, and some of the men could come out alive," the chairman of the company, Sir Keith Acutt, told a news conference in Salisbury. "But at this stage it does not look good."

The company's estimate of the number of missing men was revised downward from 466 to 428. There were three known dead, men whose bodies were recovered from the 300-foot level, and another was rescued with serious injuries.

A spokesman at Wankie, in northwest Rhodesia, announced earlier today that 466 men were believed still in the mine. But later in the day he said a total of 428 missing was arrived at by a check of workers absent

Tuesday because they were ill or on vacation.

Five other men working on the surface were injured by the blast Tuesday.

The worst previous mining disaster in African history occurred at Coalbrook, South Africa, in 1960, when 437 men were killed.

The rescue effort was hampered by explosions in a ventilation shaft today and a major rockfall at the main entrance to the shafts resulting from detonation of a cache of gelignite by the explosion Tuesday.

The explosions in the ventilation shaft forced rescue teams to give up efforts to repair it so that air could be pumped through to corridor in which men were believed trapped.

Government spokesman said the blasts increased carbon monoxide gas in the shaft, and workers wearing oxygen masks were operating auxiliary fans in efforts to draw off some of the gas.

The blast which trapped the men Tuesday was described officially as a "major underground explosion" and was unofficially reported to have been caused by methane gas combining with coal dust.

The explosion propelled a cable car from the central shaft 210 feet into the air and jolted the massive winch at the head of the inclined shaft from its base.

The explosion did extensive damage to the ventilation system, and large areas of the mine were without fresh air.

Four 20-man "proto" teams were flown from South Africa to join the rescue work. They are equipped with "proto" packs of oxygen and slaked-lime purifiers enabling them to operate in poisoned atmosphere underground. But numerous rock falls hampered the rescue work.

Hundreds of wives and relatives of the missing men waited at the entrance to the mine.

Nixon At Camp David

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has flown to Camp David, his retreat in the Catoctin Mountains, for a midweek stay.

Nixon, accompanied by only one senior staff aide, assistant H. R. Haldeman, made the 30-minute trip by helicopter Tuesday.

Deputy press secretary Gerald L. Warren said he did not know when Nixon would return to the White House. He said the chief executive would work largely on domestic matters while at Camp David.

Charges Republicans Are Meddling

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

A charge of Republican involvement has arisen in the runoff campaign for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 3rd District.

Howard Guess Cain Jr. of Huntsville has made the accusation, claiming that the Republican machine is meddling in the race so that his opponent, Guy Hatfield of Rogers, will win the nomination.

Cain says the Republicans figure that Hatfield, who led the ticket with almost 50 percent of the vote in the first primary last week, would be the weaker opponent for the GOP incumbent, John Paul Hammerschmidt, in the November general election.

Hatfield, 65, a retired actor and businessman, says that if there has been a Republican crossover vote for him in the Democratic primary, he has no knowledge of it.

"If he (Cain) knows it, he knows more than I do," Hatfield said in an interview. "As far as who voted, why they voted and how they voted, I have no way of knowing. I want every vote I can get. If the Republicans want to vote for me, that's up to them."

Cain, 28, a businessman and lawyer who learned he passed the bar examination two days before he filed for office, said Hatfield was a Republican "vehicle."

"The ignition system of that vehicle is the brain trust of the Republican party, the carburetor is the power of certain key people in our counties and the gasoline is a lot of that green-back money," Cain said.

Hammerschmidt, who is seeking a fourth term, is considered by many to hold a "safe" seat, but Hatfield and Cain believe he is beatable.

"No man is unbeatable," Cain said. "I know I can beat him, but first I've got to have the chance."

"Mr. Hammerschmidt is very vulnerable," Hatfield said.

Hatfield said former Gov. Orval E. Faubus was behind Cain. "If the people want Mr. Faubus as their congressman, they can go ahead and vote for Cain. I don't think they want Faubus. He has endorsed Cain, he has advised him And, as far as I'm concerned, his advice is outdated. He still thinks you and I of Arkansas are a bunch of pointy-headed hillbillies. This simply is not true."

Both Cain and Hatfield are political newcomers in a race that has not attracted much attention. Cain is the son of an official of the Faubus administration. Hatfield, who was born in Missouri about four miles from the Arkansas line and grew up in Benton County, retired to Rogers in 1962 after a long and varied acting career. He has business interests in the area.

He claims an endorsement in his race from comedian Groucho Marx, who Hatfield says is a close friend.

Cain contends that Hatfield has not taken stands on the issues. "He has campaigned on 65 years of good life, truth and honesty," Cain says.

"My campaign platform is the truth," Hatfield said. "I am an honorable man of character. I have told the people the truth. I intend to continue telling the people the truth."

Hatfield says he would work for tax reform for lower and middle income groups and relief for small businessmen. He said he also wanted an increase in Social Security benefits and a strengthening of national financial controls. He said he was a longtime opponent of the Vietnam war.

Cain has come out against busing school children for racial balance and new drug control legislation, claiming there should be more enforcement of laws already on the books. He has stressed a need for better farm-to-market roads in the 3rd District. He wants legislation designed to crack down on drug pushers.

Hatfield has said that Hammerschmidt sold his constituents down the river by consulting with them on his legislation to turn the Buffalo River into a national park. He said candidate squarrel with Hammerschmidt is that the congressman did not consult local people in proposing a river concept and venting a proposed dam.

More Money Likely for Amtrak

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears ready to invest another $225 million in federal grants and $100 million more in guaranteed loans to rescue Amtrak, the financially pinched corporation striving to save America's passenger trains.

Senate-House conferees, handing Congress their compromise bill Tuesday, knocked out an urban-corridor-improvements plan containing $50 million in grants and $100 million in guaranteed loans. But they agreed to provide $2 million a year to help link U.S. intercity service to Canada and Mexico.

The 10-man conference committee, proposing terms to settle differences in conflicting bills on Amtrak, the National Railroad Passenger Corp., accepted a provision limiting Amtrak officials' salaries to $60,000 a year with anything more to come only from the corporation's net profits. Amtrak President Roger Lewis draws $125,000 annually.

The Transportation Department urged $170 million in new federal grants for Amtrak, to go along with an original $40-million grant provided under a 1970 law when the federal government created the passenger service-saving operation. Amtrak took over most of the nation's city-connecting passenger-train service in May 1971.

Originally, the House approved the $170 million, but the Senate voted for $270 million. The congressional conferees, headed by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and Rep. Harley G. Staggers, D-W.Va., settled on $225 million. They also deleted a Senate-passed provision of $15 million in grants to help develop experimental service.

The existing limit on loan guarantees for Amtrak is $100 million. The Senate voted to raise this ceiling to $250 million, but the conferees decided to provide guaranteed loans up to $150 million through June 30, 1973, and up to $200 million thereafter.

Amtrak, which is required by law to continue serving its basic system until July 1, 1975, when it can re-examine its routes, also began life with $100 million from participating railroads.

Other major provisions in the compromise authorization bill, needed to resolve disputes created by separate versions approved by Senate and House, include requirements that Amtrak operate and control all parts of its passenger service that is practicable, and that Amtrak take steps to raise revenues by carrying mail and freight.

From President Nixon signed Hammerschmidt's bill into law.

Cain says that he is for the preservation of the river "and its natural beauty, if this is the way the bill does."

"I don't know if this is all that the bill does," he said.

Choosing a New Name

Embarrassed by his "foreign" name, a young man went to court to have it Americanized. But at the hearing, his own parents showed up to protest. In their eyes, he was disgracing his family and denying his past. Nevertheless, the court approved the change. "The law," said the court, "does not require a man to perpetuate the surname of his ancestors."

Unlike fingerprints, names may be changed with comparative ease. One way is to "get yourself known" by a new name. But a speedier, safer way, allowed almost everywhere, is to have the change formally approved in a court procedure. Generally speaking, you may choose any name you please. However, courts do retain a certain amount of discretion to say no.

The most common reason for a refusal is to prevent fraud. In one case, a man seeking a name change admitted that he had seven unsatisfied judgments hanging over his head. The court turned him down, figuring that he was mainly interested in throwing creditors off his trail. Commercial considerations also blocked another man's attempt to drop his first, middle, and last names in exchange for a single name. The court said: "Approval of the use of a single name would cause disruption of official records and complications in our economy, largely dependent on credit of easily identifiable persons."

Occasionally a change will be turned down because it is just too freakish. Two actresses, paired as a night club team, once applied at the same time for exactly the same name. Under this arrangement, they pointed out to the court, neither one could get any more publicity than the other. They said they wanted to make certain that problems of professional jealousy would never arise between them.

But the judge foresaw so many mixups and complications that he denied their request. He said the two actresses would soon find themselves enacting a real-life "Comedy of Errors."

Growing Stomach Is Embarrassing

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am a 16-year-old girl who has a small but embarrassing problem. My stomach grows a lot and makes funny noises. When I am with a date at a movie and everything is quiet, it seems to growl twice as much and twice as loud. It embarrasses me to death and I don't know what to do. I have tried holding my breath, tightening my stomach, taking deep breaths and not drinking fluids before I go out. I've also tried ignoring it, but nothing seems to help. Could you please tell me what causes this and how I can prevent it? Please try to print this before too long because I would like to have a cure before my next date. This may not seem important to you but it is very important to me. I have about decided to stop dating because it bothers me so much.

Dear Reader—That's not an easy problem to solve. It is caused by the normal contractions of the digestive tract. The entire long digestive tube is lined with muscles which contract to propel food in a normal fashion. The digestive tract is very susceptible to emotions and excitement. There are many things which will cause it to become "overactive." One of these is being hungry. It is literally true that a person's stomach grows when they are hungry. You might try eating before you go out on a date, rather than avoiding fluids.

No doubt it increases when you are on a date because you are a bit nervous. Perhaps after you have dated a little longer or are better acquainted with your date, this problem will not be quite so great. You might keep in mind that everyone has this in some degree and it is perfectly normal, so why be so embarrassed about it? If you are a good listener, you might find your boy friend's stomach grows, too.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I read the article about the woman with the problem of swollen lips. I had this same problem for a year and avoided many different kinds of food and still had trouble. I finally found out that it was caused by two different brands of lipstick I was using.

Dear Reader—That's very thoughtful of you. It illustrates again the multitude of different things which can cause people to be allergic and have swelling of the face or lip which is called angioneurotic edema. This again points up why doctors have so much trouble finding out what causes an allergy. It can be anything from lipstick or other cosmetics to things in the air, foods or even medicines. Another reader found it was aspirin.

Opening lead — A

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Here is another Eddy Kantar hand from the American Contract Bridge League Bulletin.

South arrives at a poor six-spade contract but you can't fault the bidding. There is tremendous duplication of values.

West gets off to what turns out to be a very friendly opening lead and it is up to South to plan his play.

Naturally, he ruffs in dummy. Then he considers his next play. One line is to play three rounds of hearts and hope to be able to ruff the third one successfully.

A slightly better line is to cash the ace of trumps first. You just might drop a singleton king. If you don't you still play three rounds of hearts, ruffing the third one.

Both these plays fail because West holds just two hearts and will overruff the third lead and cash his ace of diamonds.

The other line of play is to cash just two hearts and then lead dummy's singleton diamond.

This play works. West wins the diamond and can't lead anything to keep South from gaining the lead in order to take a trump finesse.

This play is also superior. West needs the king of spades for his vulnerable opening. Thus, this play will work as long as hearts break 3-2 and as long as West does hold that spade king.

It fails miserably if West opened some sort of fancy bid with just nine high-card points but that is the sort of chance a good player has to take.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

♥+CARD Sense♦

The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 N.T.	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	Pass

You, South, hold:
♠ K J 5 4 ♥ K 8 7 6 ♦ 5 4 ♣ Q 10 7

What do you do now?
A—Bid four hearts. Your hand is worth 10 points in support of hearts and your partner has a 16-18-point hand. Even if he has cheated a point, there will still be a fair chance for game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two hearts, your partner has rebid two diamonds to deny holding a four-card major suit. What do you do now?

Writer Recalls Pranks With Star, Lily Tomlin

By EVELYN AUGUST
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Despite the heavy stage makeup and the years in between, it was the same rubber face I remembered from the gymnasium balcony at Hutchins Intermediate School, when my friend Lily Tomlin used to go into her hypnotism act.

Together with her best friend, Susie, the Grammy award-winning comedy star of "Laugh-In" would wave a lock of hair and forth, intoning all the time — "You are getting sleepy, you are getting sleepy."

And Susie, playing her part to the hilt, would slump backwards against the wall. We never really had a chance to find out if it was on the level. Our little seances were always broken up by the gym teacher yelling, "What's going on up there?"

Lily — she was Mary Jean Tomlin then — was a tomboy — that is, until her last semester at Hutchins when she returned from summer vacation in ballet slippers, lots of crinoline petticoats and a bit of a sweater-girl figure — all the result, I later learned, of a modeling course she'd taken.

That fall Lily, Susie and I did some crazy things. Lily and I talked about them over dinner after her recent concert appearance at Detroit's Ford Auditorium, where, Lily recalled, she used to usher in order to see the shows.

Once the three of us stalked Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh (then still man-and-wife) at a downtown Detroit hotel.

Learning the room number from a cooperative elevator operator, we walked up stairs to avoid the hotel security men.

"Yeah, we did — we walked up 14 flights of stairs," Lily recalled. "Then we got chased, and we ran down the stairs to get away." But that was after we summoned up the nerve — it didn't take much — to knock on the Curtises' door. We were greeted by Tony Curtis in white shorts and T-shirt and Janet Leigh in a white slip.

Lily managed to snatch a white handkerchief from Curtis and a cigarette from Miss Leigh as souvenirs before we fled, with hotel security guards in fast pursuit.

How did Curtis react some 10 years later when he guest-starred on "Laugh-In" and was told about the incident? "I just told him about it, and he was so sweet and everything," she said, adding, "He just wanted to know, 'Was I nice?'"

Offstage, Lily sounds like the fast-talking character that helped make her famous, along with Ernestine, the pinch-faced switchboard operator; Edith Ann, the chocolate-coated 5-year-old, and Mrs. Earbore, the tasteful lady Lily said she fashioned after all the wealthy matrons in the fashionable Grosse Pointe suburbs of Detroit.

She starts a sentence, words spilling out a mile a minute, stops midway through, then changes directions, only to stop again and go back to where she was.

Lily says she loved her parents and brother Richard. "They're funny and everything but they weren't going to tell me what to do. They didn't preach. They had no pretensions in that direction."

She spent a couple of years in Detroit working at the coffee houses around town and getting great reviews from the local press. She went to New York — for good — in 1965.

The Merv Griffin show was the first of the television talk shows she appeared on — thanks to her manager, Britisher Irene Penn. She was also on the Gary Moore Show.

That was in 1965. Her tenure with the Moore show was short, lasting only three shows. "They got rid of me right away," she said. "They didn't like me at all. We just didn't get along."

But something happened that changed her life. She got a residual check in the mail for $900 — payment for a cold remedy commercial she'd done months before.

I said, well this is fabulous and as soon as that commercial was on the air, then I started getting calls for commercials, so then I could quit typing and then I started making all my money performing."

Since then, Lily Tomlin and her collection of weirdos have been headed in one direction — up.

While on her latest concert and club tour, during her hiatus from the "Laugh-In" filming, she has purchased a new house in Los Angeles and she admits to being "in love" although she won't say with whom. "It's my life," she explained.

As for her recent Grammy Award — the first ever won by a comedienne — she's obviously thrilled but maintains her cool with a highly understated, "Oh, yes, that was nice."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The American Kennel Club recorded 1,129,200 dogs in 1971, the highest number registered in the organization's history. Poodles ranked as the most popular breed in the U.S.A. for the 12th consecutive year according to the AKC's 1971 pure-bred registration figures. The World Almanac says. There were 256,491 poodles and 111,355 German shepherds registered in 1971.
